For only $25, you can attend any of the activities listed below

2:00-3:30 p.m.

Community and Population Health - led by Keia Hobbs, MD, University of Illinois at Chicago and Jacob Prunuske, MD, University of Minnesota-Duluth co-chairs. Join small discussion groups to discuss presentations and plan how to address population and community health in the workplace.

Maternity Care Collaborative - led by Evelyn Figueroa, MD, UIC Family Medicine Residency and Stephan Sladek, MD, Advocate Christ Family Medicine Residency, (Two 90-minute sessions) - this mainstay of Family Medicine Midwest will cover the wide ranging issues facing mother's -to-be and their babies. Dedicated to enhancing preconception, prenatal and postpartum care. We intend to generate awareness of existing tools/resources and develop new projects which aim to improve maternal and child health.

Integrative Medicine: Practical Implications of a "Whole Health Approach" - led by Adam Rindfleisch, MD, Integrative Medicine Fellowship Director and Russ Lemmon, DO University of Wisconsin Department of Family and Integrative Medicine. This session is designed to provide the primary care provider with some practical tools to approach difficult clinical problems with a patient-focused, "whole health" approach. An integrative approach to chronic pain and mental health will be highlighted. We will focus on concepts that can be applied in clinical practice, discuss the evidence base for complementary approaches, and allow time for experiential learning and discussion.

4:00-5:30PM

Osteopathic Manipulative Treatment (OMT) Tricks and Tips for the non D.O. Provider led by Timothy Ott, DO, SIU-Quincy Family Medicine Residency and Davis Yang, MD, MacNeal Family Medicine Residency

Global Health - led by Leah Suarez-Abraham, MD, PCC Wellness Fellowship Director and Daniel Hawthorne, MD, West Suburban Family Medicine Resident. The goal is to further global health education that advocates for Family Medicine and primary health care solutions primarily in low- and middle-income countries (LMICs) by using responsible, ethical, and humble approaches to partnerships with longitudinal relationships.

Maternity Care Collaborative continues

Attending this conference helped me to confirm my personal interest in pursuing a career in Family Medicine. The people that I met during the conference, both students and physicians, are the types of people that I hope to work with in the future.

An amazing gathering! I had fun, I learned and I caught up with some old friends and made some new ones., especially with students!

Celebrate with these free social sessions

Friday Night Welcome Reception from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

All attendees and family members are invited to reunite with old friends and make some new ones at this pre-conference welcome reception. Get ready for the Illinois Academy of Family Physicians FP musicians! You read that right, we have a house band!

Saturday "Gear Up for Your Career" Event for Residents from 5:30-7:00pm.

Illinois AFP's New Physician leaders will share their first-hand recent expertise in the job search, evaluating opportunities, negotiating a contract, finding the right fellowship, working in an FQHC and making the transition from resident to the real world. You'll also have the opportunity to visit with our employer conference supporters to learn what opportunities await!

About the Conference:

Launched in 2012, the Family Medicine Midwest Foundation is a 501 (c) 3 organization with a core mission of identifying and supporting students interested in family medicine. We are committed to promoting the value of family medicine to practicing colleagues, future colleagues and the public. This conference will capitalize on the momentum of nationwide health care change, to a system that provides access to high quality primary care to improve outcomes and lives for all patients. Together we will:

- Showcase Midwest family medicine residencies
- Provide a forum for scholarly work and research presentations (CV builders!)
- Highlight community-based practice and best practice sharing
- Promote cooperative and collaborative health care innovation

For more information about the Family Medicine Midwest, please contact Vince Keenan, FMMC Executive Director at vkeen@iafp.com or 630-427-8002. The Illinois Academy of Family Physicians (IAFP) is the meeting management organization for this conference.

This conference is held in association with the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM) and the Association of the Departments of Family Medicine (ADFM)

43 out of 72 FM Midwest attendees who graduated from medical school in 2015 chose family medicine residencies. And 31 of them are staying in the Midwest!

What FMM Can Do For You:

- Networking for faculty, residents and medical students and collaboration on issues
- Faculty Development/CME
- Enhanced procedural training for all learners
- Career planning and advancement

Diversity of Our Plenary Speakers:

Wanda Filer, MD, MBA The Renaissance of Family Medicine

Dr. Filer is a family physician in York, Pennsylvania, will be president of the American Academy of Family Physicians by the time she speaks at FM Midwest. Filer has been a practicing family physician for more than 25 years. She is the founder and president of the Strategic Health Institute in York, a health care consulting firm dedicated to building awareness of today's health issues and the need for change. In addition, Filer is a family physician at Family First Health, a federally qualified health center in York and Adams Counties. At the state level, Filer served as the first Physician General of Pennsylvania, where she acted as public health advisor to then-Gov. Tom Ridge. She is the past chair of Vision of Hope for the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Rape, which focuses on the prevention of child sexual assault. She worked for 18 years as a health correspondent for WGAL-TV, the NBC affiliate in Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Fred Richardson, MD, FFAFP Back to the Future: Why the Old-Fashioned House Call is the Future of Family Medicine

Dr. Richardson is Founder and Medical Director of Dr. Richardson's Neighborhood Family Practice in Oak Park, Illinois for the past 24 years. He has taught in the Chicago Health and Medical Careers Program, CAHCMP, at IIT for the past 10 years using an innovative problem based curriculum to develop underrepresented minority students for careers in medicine and the health professions. Dr. Richardson has taught on the national level co-lecturing with the former U.S. Surgeon General, Dr. David Satcher, on disparities in healthcare and was featured in an AAFP 50th anniversary video. He was recently featured on NBC's Today show for his home visits to some of Chicago's most dangerous neighborhoods, where he and his wife Julie both grew up. His daughter Jessica is now an intern at UIC Family Medicine Residency.
